

Local Law Enforcement Fellowship Program

Statewide Terrorism & Intelligence Center

The Statewide Terrorism & Intelligence Center (STIC) serves as a hub for the exchange of information between federal, state and local public safety organizations. Officers, analysts and leaders from these organizations have varying degrees of understanding of the resources available to public safety organizations via the STIC. These resources include several dozen databases, expertise in many investigative and intelligence techniques, major case support, and available technology and equipment. In order to address these gaps and improve the cooperation and coordination with local law enforcement agencies, the STIC is implementing a Law Enforcement Fellowship Program beginning in May 2017.

This fellowship will be a two-week (10 day) program in which travel and lodging will be provided for local officers to travel to Springfield and work with personnel, analysts, and program managers at the STIC. Officers selected will be exposed to the following:

- Introduction to the Intelligence Cycle and Intelligence Guidelines
- Participation in daily STIC meetings and briefings
- STIC databases, resources, mapping, and technology
- Familiarization with reporting and tracking of suspicious activity
- Information about counter terrorism, HVEs, and the FBI JTTF
- Techniques in the use of Open Source Intelligence
- Major crime support and leads management

Participants will become familiar with STIC federal partners, the Narcotics program, and the Public Safety programs available. Officers will have the opportunity to bring agency and case specific requests with them to STIC for potential exploitation during the second week. Candidates must have the recommendation of their Chief or Sheriff, will be subject to a limited background check to included checks of STIC databases and open source social media, and must sign a non-disclosure agreement. All law enforcement agencies in Illinois are eligible to participate in this fellowship program and should be willing to share information about public safety threats from within their jurisdictions with the STIC.
