PROFESSIONAL STANDARDS AND INTERNAL AFFAIRS FOR FIRE SERVICES

Who should attend: Fire department executives and supervisors, Human Resource directors, fire union officials, and anyone who conducts internal investigations on fire service personnel.

The professional standards model is a must for fire services and to be prepared before a critical incident occurs. This two day course sets the stage for fire executives, internal affairs investigators and supervisors to create an agency wide practice of professional standards for all agency operations and how to thoroughly investigate complaints against employees. In the covered material, attendees will understand “best practices” including how to avoid the problems before they occur, properly address issues that do arise. This is a comprehensive course covering the entire internal affairs process through final discipline.

Topics Include:

- Current climate for fire services
- The professional standards model
- 5 root causes of discipline problems
- Firemen’s Disciplinary Act
- Stakeholders and their perceptions
- Types of internal investigations
- The complaint process
- The investigation process
- Employee rights
- Appropriate discipline procedures
- Workplace searches
- False Complaints
